"OUR CLASS EPITOME" --A HISTORIC OFFENSIVE

The historic offensive of the Class of 1941 started in the fall of 1929 with sixteen pupils. Those were inducted into the first grade by Mrs. Sarah Smith and were advanced in rank by Miss Amy Bryan, Mrs. Ethel Woods, and Miss Laura Stewart who were very well qualified to train us in the fundamentals we needed to carry on our high school education.

The first assault upon the problems of high school confronting a band of verdant Freshman came in the fall of 1937, as 37 pupils gathered at the portals of our beloved high school equipped with eight years of grammar school training and experience. With the courage that had always been characteristic of our group we soon mastered this new situation. Advancing through the new subject matter of the freshman year we soon were able to settle down into a new routine. In addition to the success in academics we marched into the new territory of sports, music, literary, and dramatics. With the coming of spring we were soon rushed into the Sophomore year, a more experienced crew.

By autumn we had lost the verdancy which characterized us as fresh recruits. Our success and our achievements were now more consistent. In addition to performing the functions enjoyed in the freshman year, we received many committee assignments and were able to envision the greatest responsibilities of leadership and membership, that were to befall us as Juniors and Seniors. We assumed responsibility in scholarship, activities, sports, and social functions as Juniors. Tradition declared it to be our duty to banquet the Seniors and our friends the faculty. We assumed a new role in dramatics as we successfully took parts in the all-school pageant, directed by Miss Speer. During the class night exercises of the class of 1940 we were presented the Pick of the Class of 1940 which we accepted as a symbol of those responsibilities, the hard work, and the loyalty that would be required of us when we became Seniors.

Members of the Class of 1940 were correct in predicting that the biggest chapter in our class history was to come during the Senior year. It came with the responsibilities of the Senior Play, student council, the Barn Dance Frolic, the editing of the Blue and White, and the commencement-season activities. During this year the boys of the Senior class were given the opportunity to introduce six-man football, and that fact alone made us happy as well as proud of the boys who did so well. We were not negligent in basketball and track and in all endeavors we did our best. We have emulated the Class of 1940 and its first post-commencement tour, by going one step further. To the Class of 1941 goes the credit and glory of publishing the first school annual.

As we conclude the last chapter in this, our High School History, we are looking earnestly (yes, sincerely) to the chapters that we as individuals shall write in the future. There are great responsibilities awaiting us out there in our vocational life, our adjustment to society, our citizenship.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT OF THE CLASS OF 1941

Abiding by our school's custom of willing our precious possessions and astounding abilities to our fellow students, we hereby state at this time, the Last Will and Testament of the Class of 1941.

WE, the Senior Class of 1941, being of sound bodies, minds, and souls; belonging to apparent adulthood; and acting according to our standards of conduct; do hereby state the following as our Last Will and Testament.

WE, the Class of 1941, will what little dignity we have obtained through our four years of high school to next year's Seniors. We leave our noise-making ability, our "oneryness", and such to the Sophomores of this year. We leave our knowledge of life from experience and understanding of problems to the youngsters who began high school this year.

To the teachers who have guided us through our school life, we leave our regrets and apologies for misbehavior at any time, also our stock of cute sayings, and our wealth of knowledge given on all quizzes, tests, and discussions in class.

BEN GREENWELL wills his ability to make speeches to David Forsyth then the high school will always have a good speechmaker; his football ability to Jack Dorman who should be able to carry Viola on to victory.

OLIVE LINGAFELTER bequeaths her soldier to Betty Miller so that Betty can keep up with the Jones's; her glasses to Billy Lawson who may then be able to keep track of Betty Sexton.

JACK KNOX wills his pretty blush to Louise Diggs who could use a blush now and then; his ability to get by with chewing gum to Fatty Forsyth who hasn't yet acquired the art.

KATHRYN MAYNARD wills her steady boy--friend to Joan Swanson who could take boy-friends more seriously; her way of bossing people around to Donald Louck who may then get to do some bossing of his own.

BERNERD BEALER bequeaths his beautifully groomed hair to Hedge Maynard so Hedge can also attract certain Junior girls; his basketball ability to Frank Mack who should be able to attain Bernerd's ability.

VIRGINIA BURRILL leaves her stubbornness to Wayne Maynard just in case someone tries to make him do something he doesn't think he ought to; her quietness to Doris Harroun who may benefit by it.

STUART SMITH bequeaths his basketball ability to Jack Dorman as well as his girl friend, Marjorie Brown; his temper to Tommy Smith so the teachers will not have the chance to boss him so much.

LOIS ZIEGENHORN wills her attractive curly hair to Leah Dawson so her hair will look as nice as Lois's does; her good grades to Glen Beard so maybe he will be eligible for basketball and football all next year.

LUCILLE TYGRET bequeaths her jitterbug nature to Nollie Rose Bridger; her steady boy-friend to Frances Ayers, for two is better than one.

GEORGIA PEASE leaves her many boy-friends to Mary Jo Lindburg with the hope that one of them will change her man-hate attitude; her ability to have friends like Sis Maynard and Ella Lawson to Nitabelle Robbins.

GEORGE RODAMSKY leaves his ability to draw pretty pictures and designs to Pete Liebendorfer who may then mark up all of his books as George does; his place on the football team to Jerry Gobon so Jerry can be in there fighting for Viola.

NORMA HUGHES wills her springy, fast walk to Lawrence Fritch so he may arrive before the last bell rings; her glasses to Davey Forsyth so the girls can see his winks better.

EUNICE SMITH bequeaths her stature to Banny Ayers as well as her ability to get her work done; her romantic nature to Ralph Knoss.

DARLENE MINTEER wills her excellent shorthand ability to Fatty Forsyth so his notes won't be so easily deciphered; her ability to get along so nicely with the teachers to Tommy Smith.

MELVIN SIMS wills his bushy hair to Earl Dawson with the hopes that Earl can train it to be as attractive as his own; his arguing ability to Vincent Christianson so he can learn to stand up for his own rights.

DORIS ANDERSON bequeaths her definitely blonde hair to Marjorie Brown so she won't have to dye it anymore (or does she?); her baritone horn to Evelyn Anderson so she can make herself heard and not soon.

MARGARET LONG leaves her diamond to Chrystal Williams so Christy's next boy-friend won't have to buy one; her droll and comical mannerisms to Evelyn Robbins.

FRANCIS JOHNSON bequeaths his quietness to Betty Yerkey so she will do less talking in general; his job of sweeping to Joe More and along with it his ambition (what couldn't Joe do with that?).

EVELYN HOLDSWORTH wills her dreamy brown eyes to Bill Butcher so he can use them when he winks at the girls; her dramatic ability to "Bottle" Esp so next year she can carry on her good work in the Senior play.

MARGARET WILLHOUSE leaves her quiet nature to Carol Bridger who may then give someone else a chance to speak once in a while; her man-hate attitude to Alma Anderson. (Now what could she do with that?)

RAYMOND TYGRET wills his deep voice and laugh to Rachel Smith; his romantic nature to Vernon Wilson; his "oneryness" in class to Roy Burrill; and his latest girl-friend to Alvin Bloomfield.

MAJEL DECKARD bequeaths her merry laugh to Robert Dolan as well as her intelligence; her shorthand ability to all of the freshmen girls who write so many notes to each other.

BOBBIE DORMAN wills her cheer-leading ability to Fat Forsyth so that the cheering will be as he thinks it should; her popularity with the boys to Doris Harroun so she can attract the boys as Bobbie does.

WILLIS MOORE wills his little freshman girl-friend, Peggy Lynn, to Eddie Board so that he will have someone to talk to now that Margie is gone; his bookkeeping ability to Darroll Robinson.

Signed, sealed, and published by the above-mentioned Class of 1941 as their Last Will and Testament, in the presence of those who, in our presence and in the presence of each other, have subscribed their names hereto as witnesses.

(Signed) His Majesty Oliver Wendell Groves
Lord Jack Pot Robinson
Notary Public Minnie Lewis
Right-Hander Laura Stewart

1941--AMERICANS ALL

This, our prophecy, depicts everyone in our class assuming a responsible place in the American Government. The chief mission is to surplant the Nazi menace by furthering the American way of life.

BEN GREENWELL being president of the Class of 1941 for three years, showed his extraordinary ability for leadership. He was therefore unanimously elected Minister of Democracy.

BERNERD BEALER, showing intense patriotism for the U.S.A., won the highest honors possible at Pensecola, where he accepted the position as instructor. He became known everywhere for his daring deeds and efforts to convert the Hitler regime.

MELVIN SIMS had great capability in handling foreign affairs as was shown in U.S. History class before graduation. This won for him much recognition and finally the job as head of the Foreign Department.

KATHRYN MAYNARD, all through school, dreamed of educating the younger generation. Her wishes were granted when Minister Greenwell visited her school and made her Minister of American Education.

GEORGE FODAMSKY was interested in the altitudinal atmospheric activities of airplanes. After graduating from Pensecola he was appointed Minister of Aviation by his classmate, Ben Greenwell.

STUART SMITH joined the army and soon gained the position as the Shock Trooper in which he received many medals for carrying out orders in the face of impending danger.

WILLIS MOORE joined the navy where he showed great ability in commanding submarines. Through this interest and ability he was named Minister of Submersible Crafts.

NORMA HUGHES after living on the farm for a few years, became vitally interested in the economic affairs of rural sections. She became well-known and was soon taken in as Minister of Economic Coordination.

OLIVE LINGAFELTER was very interested in foods. After working in laboratories and cafes, Minister Greenwell offered her the job as Food Administrator for Uncle Sam.

DORIS ANDERSON after going through nurses' training won much recognition after she was given the office of Health Administrator by patenting a potion capable of restoring health to those requiring hospitalization.

FRANCIS JOHNSON obtained a job and rose to the highest ranks of the Nasty Labor Department. Through his reputation as strike-breaker, he was appointed Minister of Labor.

LOIS ZIEGENHORN was very adept at buying, selling, trading, loaning, and borrowing. She was so proficient at this that Minister Greenwell appointed her as Commercial Secretary.

EUNICE SMITH took up beauty culture and invented a permanent permanent wave machine as well as a hair-straightener which won for her fame and popularity throughout governmental circles.

VIRGINIA BURRILL graduated from Monmouth College. Her steadfast trait to do things in secrecy placed her at the head of the Foreign Secret Service where she accomplished much for Uncle Sam.

JACK KNCX carried out his high school fancies of construction and destruction. He overcame all obstacles and ended up as Minister of Construction.

MARGARET LONG who was interested particularly in benefiting mankind by bettering the culture of the country, graduated with honors in Social Science from Bradley College. After teaching for several years, she was appointed Minister of Culture.

KATHLYN DORMAN became a secretary and due to her versatility in answering a telephone, taking dictation, and chewing gum at the same time, she was appointed Minister of Communication.

DARLENE MINTEER and MAJEL DECKARD became secretaries in Washington, D. C. Their unusual abilities as straight-thinkers attracted G. Edgar Hoover and he placed them at the head of the newly formed Department of Federal Intelligence. They invented the Dognose Odorometer which was used in identifying criminals by perspiratory secretions.

EVELYN HOLDSWORTH, through achievements in mathematics, obtained a job with the Bureau of Statistics. The information was so accurate that a clean-up campaign within the country was based on it. With a noble gesture, she became Minister of Statistics.

MARGARET WILLHOUSE went to Brown's Business College at Peoria. Her discretionary adeptness in accepting, rejecting, and qualifying the statements of others, won her recognition and she became Chief Censor and Secretary of Commerce.

LUCILLE TYGRET had acquired enormous strength and ability in participating in every sport. Her greatly developed talent won her the office of Recreation Minister.

RAYMOND TYGRET became a reporter for the Argus. His wonderful imagination and grammatical technique and construction won for him the office of Propaganda Minister.

GEORGIA PEASE liked the feel of money through her fingers although she couldn't spend it as Chairman of the Finance Committee at school, but this interest enabled her to become the Finance Minister. She invented the moneyascope, a device to locate money.

Through the efforts of these sturdy and loyal American youths, our nation rose to the highest peak of cultural, governmental, and economic development ever experienced by the American people. The American way of life was thus admired and respected by our neighbors to the west, east, north, and south.

* * * * *

"So it's home again, and home again, America for me!
My heart is turning home again, and there I long to be.
In the land of youth and freedom beyond the ocean bars,
Where the air is full of sunlight and the flag is full of stars."
--Henry Van Dyke

THE JUNIOR CLASS ACTIVITIES

Honored are we, the Junior Class of '41, to have the privilege of reporting our contributions in the first issue of the VI-CO-HI.

We feel we are justified in saying that our football stars Fatty Forsyth, Whitoy Liebendorfer, Sig Maynard, and Donald Louck helped very much in making the first six-man football season a success. We were also represented by several members on the basketball team: namely, Glen Beard, Fatty Forsyth, Whitoy Liebendorfer, and Billy Lawson.

Several Juniors participated in the County Literary and Music Contest in which Bette Esp got first rating in singing and Evelyn Anderson second rating in declamation. Chrystol Williams had previously participated in the school's vocal contest.

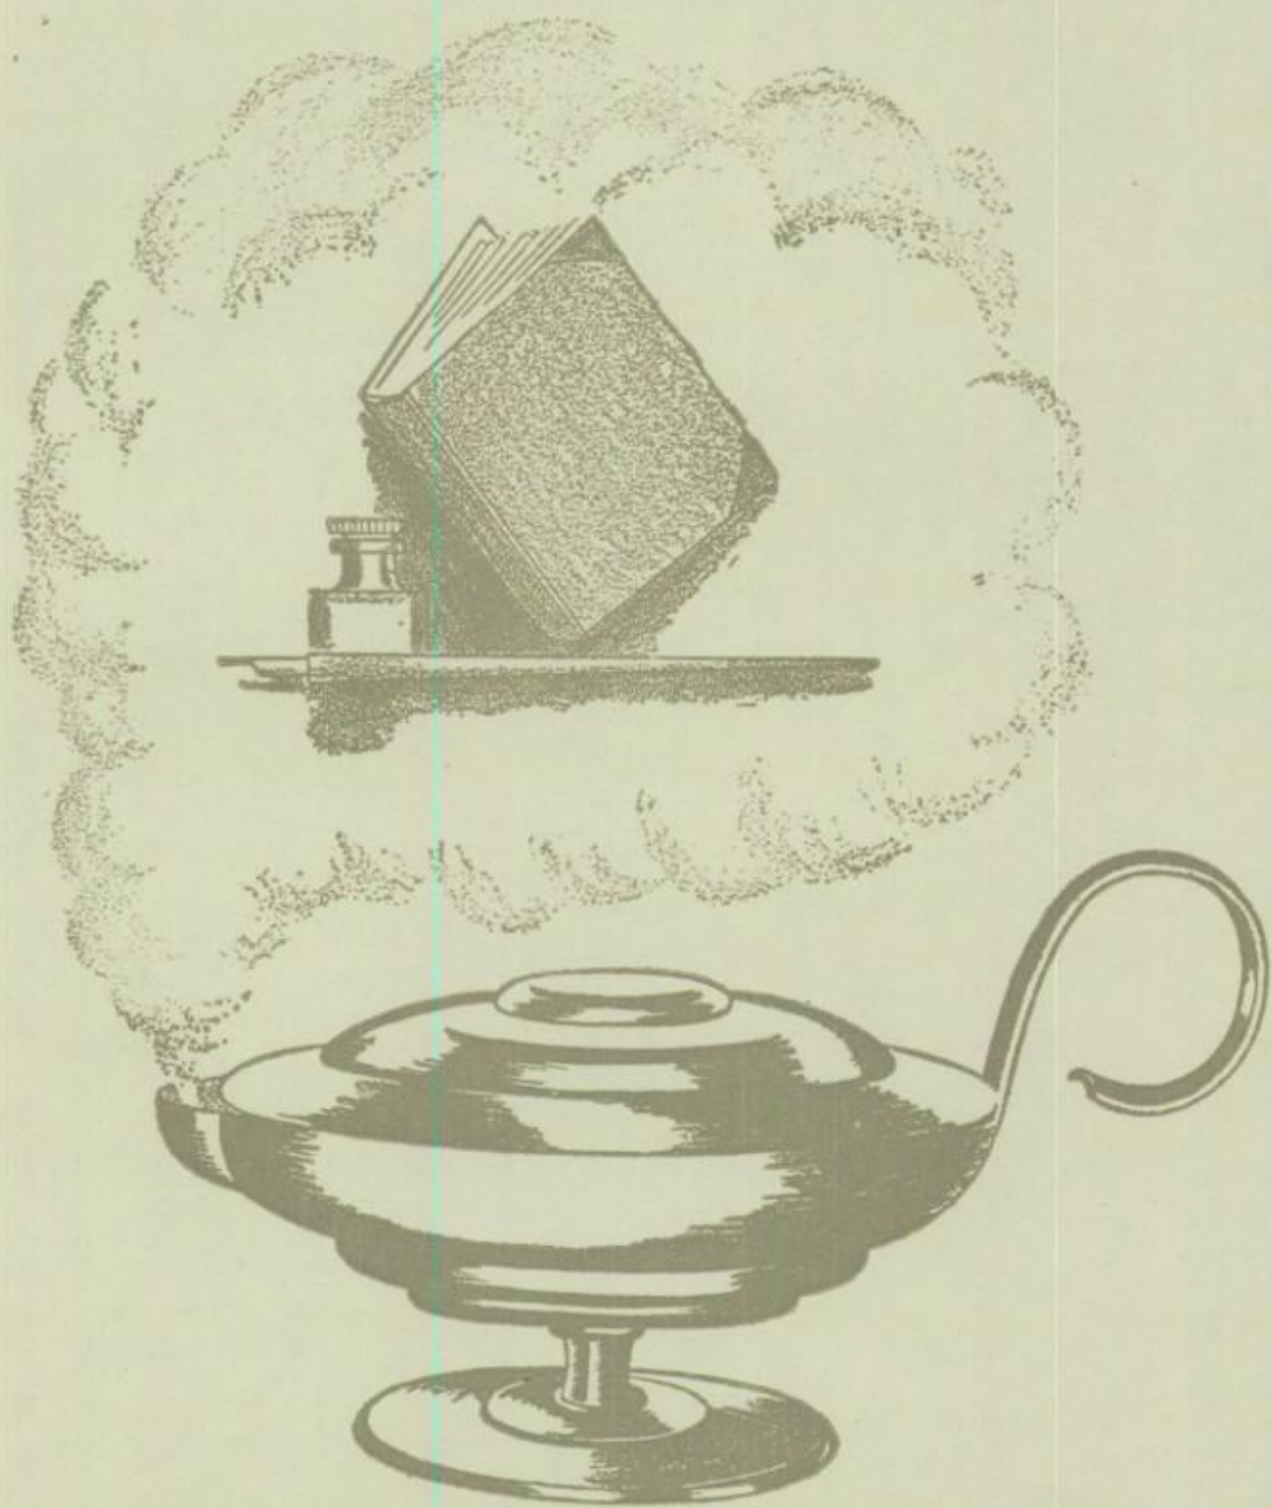

Members representing us on the Social Committee were Alma Anderson and Billy Lawson; on the Scholastic Committee, Helen Calder and Maxine Thompson; on the Assembly Program Committee, Bette Esp; and Librarian, Betty Miller.

Harold Dean Forsyth, Betty Sexton, Everett Liebendorfer, Bette Esp Laurence Fritch, Maxine Thompson, Alma Anderson, Joan Swanson, Frances Ayers, and Evelyn Anderson took part in the all-school play which financed the annual Junior-Senior Banquet. The reports of this was the finest ever. It carried out an Hawaiian theme and was held in the gym.

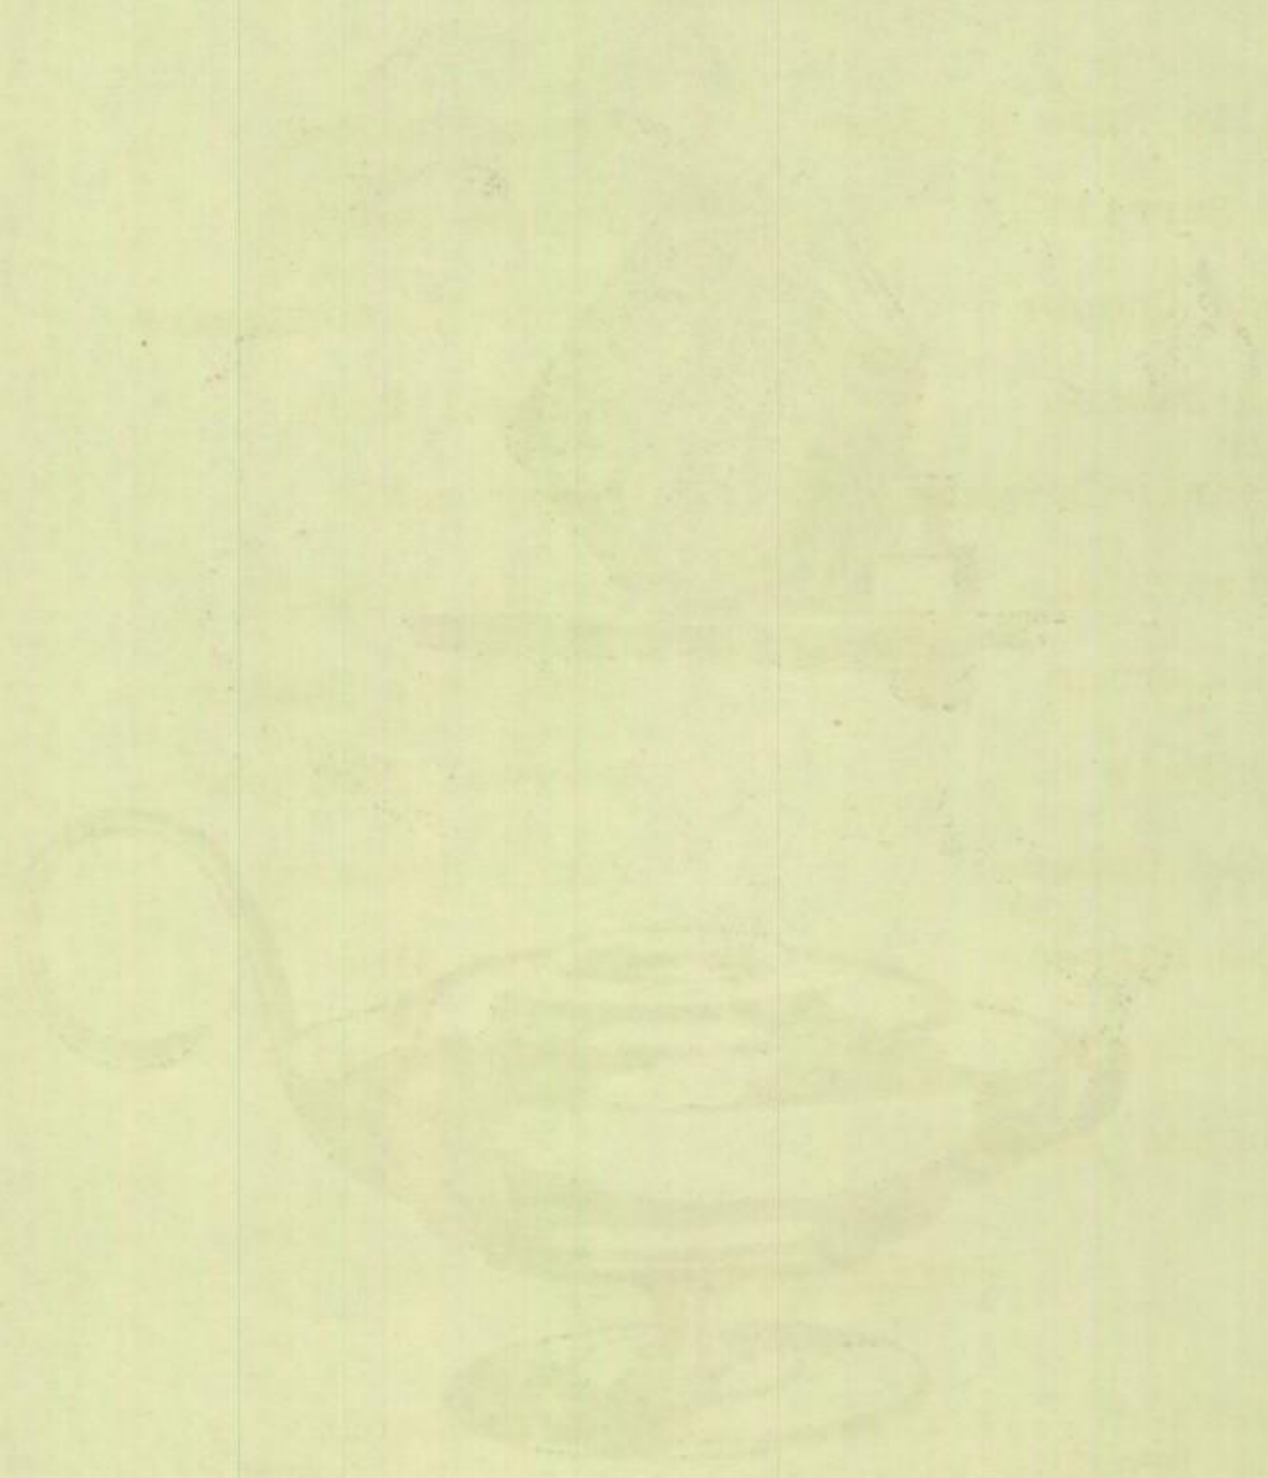

We thank Miss Hill and Miss Bonvallet in helping make this a successful year. We now look forward to our senior year with its responsibilities, pleasures, and wealth of activities. May we carry "the pick" as those behind us have done so well!

THE SOPHOMORE CLASS ACTIVITIES

We're the Sophomores! You can't overlook us! Think of the 1940 and 1941 season in this school without it's onergetic Sophomores.

Both years that we have been in high school we have won the inter-class literary and music contests. This year we were represented at the county contest by Frank Mack, Michael Mack, Anita Swanson, Rhoda Cooper, and Roy Burrill.

We are represented on the Pop Committee by Leah Dawson and Anita Swanson. Michael Mack reports on our activities each six weeks to the Blue and White and also tries to keep our scholastic standards up by representing us on the Scholastic Committee. Marjorie Daymude, representing us on the Social Committee, helps to keep our social standards high. Wayne Liebendorfer represents us on the Assenbly Program Committee and Leah Dawson is our librarian. We are also well represented in the Glee Clubs and Band. Jack Dorman and Wayne Liebendorfer took part in the All-School play.

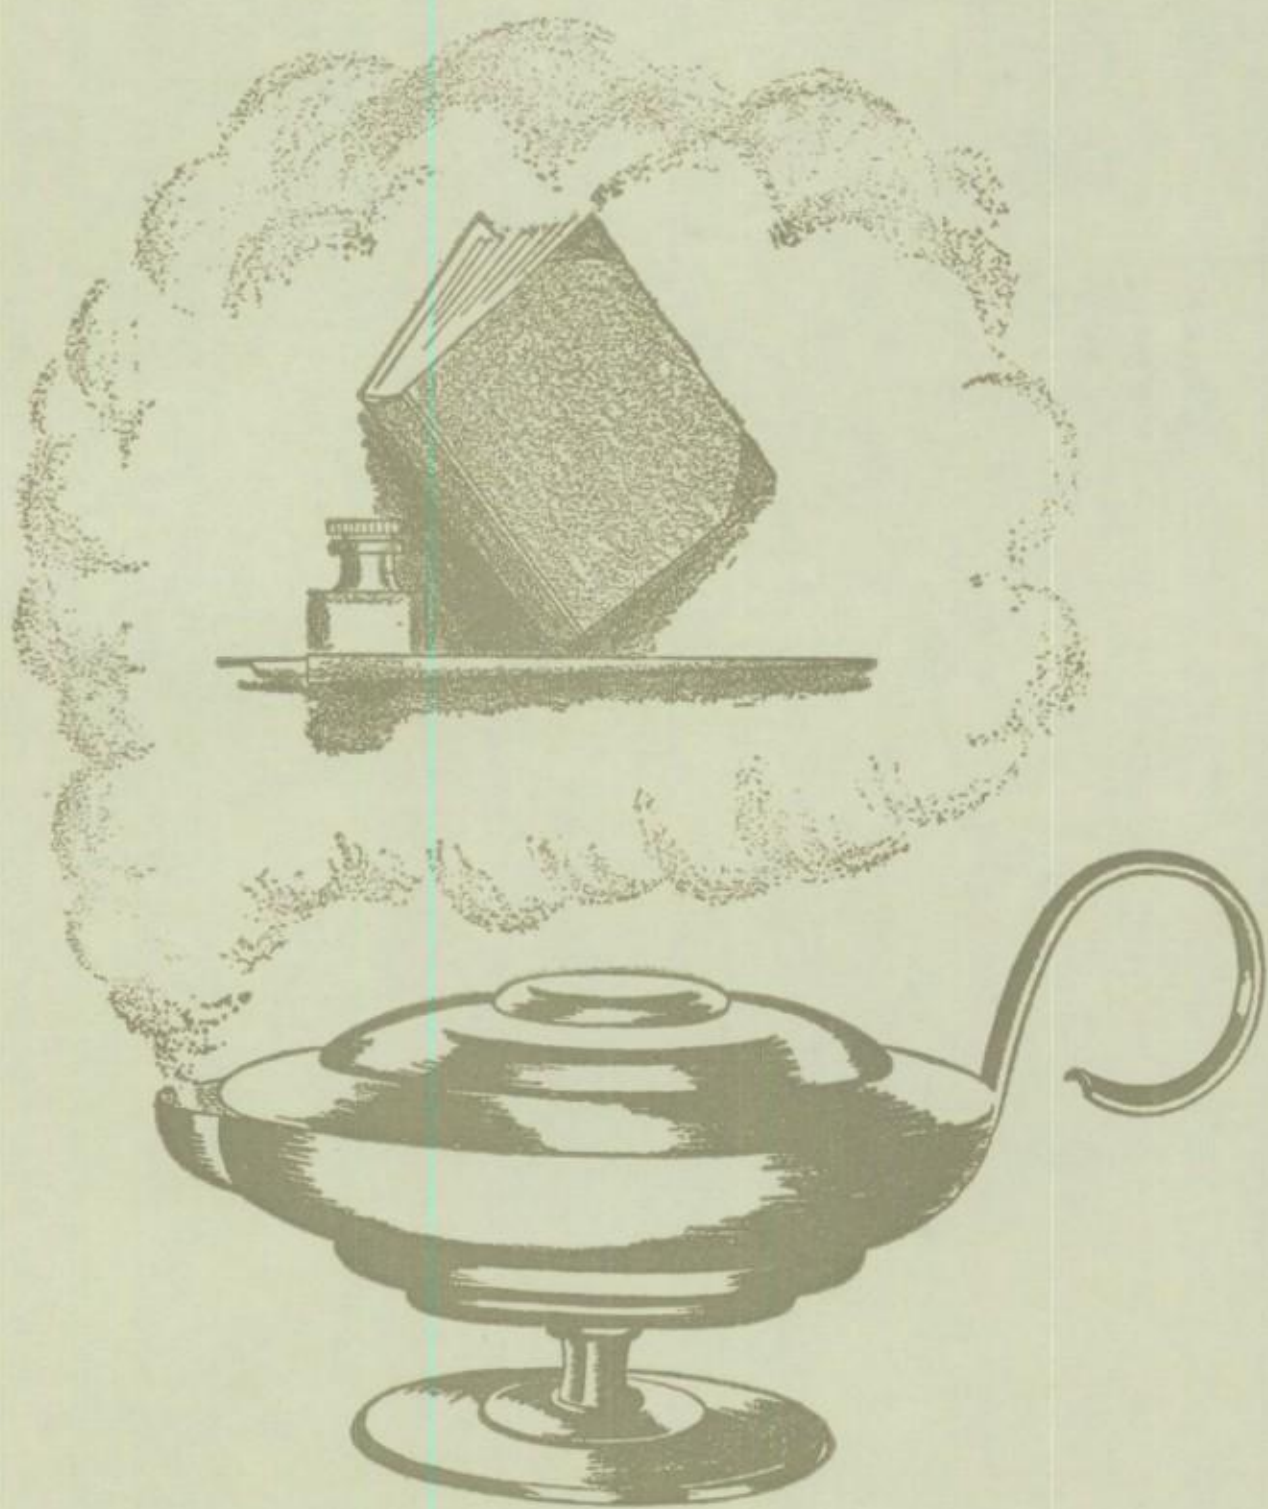

Neither are we lacking in basketball players. Several of our boys also went out for six-man football last fall. The boys most prominent in sports are Frank Mack, Michael Mack, Jack Dorman, Jerry Gobon, Wayne Liebendorfer, Harold Maynard and Hugh Dean McAtoe.

We greatly appreciate all the help that has been given us by our advisor, Mr. Wallick, who also helpod us during our green Froshic days.

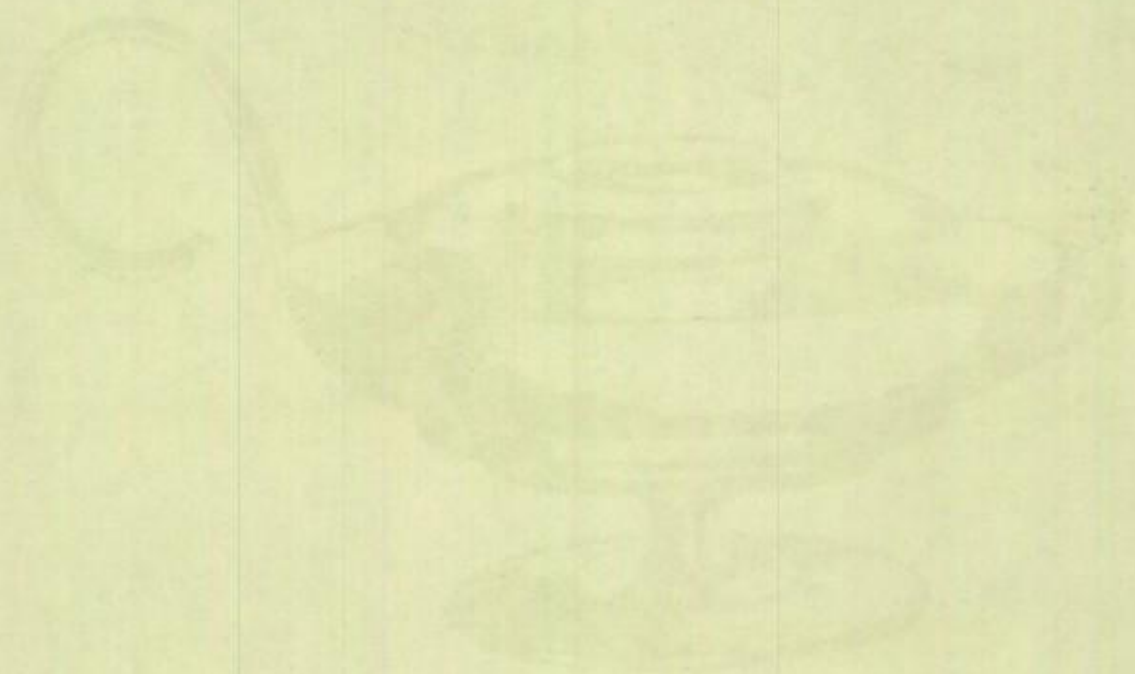

So you see the Sophomores of 1940 and 1941 aren't to be overlooked by any means.

FRESHMEN CLASS ACTIVITIES

Oh, we Freshmen! All eyes and ears! No upper classmen can overlook us. We may have been green, but we're getting ripe fast.

The Freshmen Class of this year is well represented in various activities. Arlene Haney and Joyce Smith are on the Pep Committee; Rachel Smith is Blue and White reporter; Mary Louise Litrell is on the Social Committee.

Every freshman has to show his talent sometime so we gave a program for the upper classmen. We've had several parties such as a weiner roast at the first of the year, a Freshman party, and a farowell party for Margaret Griffin. Everyone also enjoyed our initiation.

We seem to have musical ability because many wore in the school music contest. These were: Eileen Smith, Carol Bridger, Rachel Smith Bernice Ziegenhorn, and Robert Tary who sang solos. Nitabelle Robbins played a piano solo. Many freshmen are in the Glee Clubs and Band.

We are not afraid to talk and we showed this ability in the Literary Contest in which Vernon Wilson, Bernice Ziegenhorn, Mary Jo Lindburgh, Wilbur Anderson, Margaret Lynn, and Arlene Baker took part; Bernice and Vernon participated in the County Contest.

And Oh, Yes! We certainly have some grand basketball players too: Carl Rasmussen, Earl Dawson, Bob Tary, Wilbur Anderson, David Forsyth, and Red Forson.

Oh, well! We won't get kicked around next year by the upper classmen. We'll be real Sophomores.

VIOLA HIGH SCHOOL BAND

The band played, under the direction of Miss Marie Bonvallet, at basketball games, the Christmas Community Night, the "All-Star Wedding" which was a band benefit, and at various school programs.

Our aim and hope next year is that we may be all dressed-up in some "natty" band uniforms. We have several beginners who will become regular members very soon.

SIX-MAN FOOTBALL

On the whole Viola had a very successful football season, especially since this was our first year of six-man football. We won six out of the seven games played.

BASKETBALL

The basketball season was not quite as successful as the football season. Twenty-four games were played and only 50 per cent were won. The squad was third in the Little Nine Conference; third in the County Tournament; second in the Regional Tournament; but lost their first game in the Sectional to Kewanee.

SENIOR HIGHLIGHTS

GOOD-BYE SENIORS

(Tune--"Good-night Mother")

So long teachers, thanks for everything.
All your teachings will fortune to us bring.
Now the time has come when we must say adieu,
To our friends, teachers, and board members too.
On this journey we've had lots of fun.
So don't worry 'bout the Class of '41.
We'll never be so far away that we can't stop and Think each day of Viola High School

THE WISE OLD SENIORS

(Tune--"The Wise Old Owl")

As we strut about the classrooms how very smart are we.
"But you're not as smart as you think you are," says
the faculty.
We could chew our gum in rhythm, throw paper wads with glee,
And notes we'd write; it was a fright, but we still had dignity.
We seldom know our lessons well for they always seemed too long.
When we'd settle down to cogitate, the time would all be gone.
Tests came ever so often to bring some misery,
But as we depart from V.H.S., it's a dreaded destiny.
(Parodies written by Majol Deckard and Darlene Mintoer.)

This year the following were added to our high school activities and curriculum:

Our report cards included citizenship ratings.
Six-man football was admitted as a sport in V.C.H.S.
Smith-Huges Vocational Agriculture was introduced.
An Evening Class in Agriculture was organized for the farmers of the community.
An F.F.A. chapter was formed for the "Ag" boys.
The first annual, the VI-CO-HI, was published.
Visual education through movies was introduced.
Territory was gained by our school.

LETTER MEN FOR 1940 and 1941

In Football: Bernerd Bealer; Harold Dean Forsyth; Ben Greenwell; Everett Liebendorfer; George Rodamsky; Jack Knox; Stuart Smith
In Basketball: Bernerd Bealer; Harold Dean Forsyth; Jack Dorman; Billy Lawson; Stuart Smith; Everett Liebendorfer.

LAUGH AND THE WORLD LAUGHS WITH YOU

Jim R: Who invented the first radio?
Mully R: Paul Revere, he broadcasted from one plug.

Billy B: I'm groping for words.
Doodle: Well, you don't expect to find them around my neck, do you?

Ben G: No girl ever made a fool out of me.

Francis J: Who did then?

Miss Hill: Who laid out this city:
Alma A: It ain't quite dead yet.

Fat F: I heard your kid brother bawling last night.

Stu S: Yes, after four bawls he got his base warmed.

Earl D: What a crowd! Something happen?

Bob T: Man fell off the roof.

Earl: Hurt bad?

Bob: Can't tell yet. Only found one leg so far.

Miss Clark: Why does the cream rise to the top of the milk?

Opal F: So the people can get it.

Mr. Smith: Why do you hate to have me mention the survival of the fittest?

Bernerd B: The survival of the fittest is going to make some guy awful lonesome some day.

Bob S: What do you mean your grades are all wet?

Banny A: They're all below C level.

Mr. Brown: Why is your composition on milk only half a page long?

Carl R: Well, you see, I wrote about condensed milk.

Any Pep Comm. Member: Would you give ten cents to help the Old Ladies Home?

Coach Wallick: What! are they out again?

Louise D: I was outspoken in my sentiments today.

Marjorie D: I can't believe it.
Who outspoke you?

Sis M: Your boy friend has a new suit.

Georgia P: No, he hasn't.

Sis: Well, something's different.

Georgia: It's a new boy-friend.

Eunice S: When I'm in the dumps, I get myself a new hat.

June R: I was wondering where you got them.

Evelyn H: Yes, she was hanged in China.

Norma H: Shanghai?

Evelyn: Not very.

Miss Hill: What do you mean, he was a janitor?

Frank M: Well, the book says that after his exilo, he spent the rest of his life in abasement.

Chrystol W: How long should an engagement last?

Margaret L: Soon as you got to the point that you absolutely detest each other, then you are ready for marriage.

Mr. Smith: What is the choapest, nitrate or hydrate?

Eiloon S: I think day-rate is.

She shifted her brain into noutral and let her tongue idle on.

The School that places Students "No Position, No Pay"

CHILLICOTHE BUSINESS COLLEGE CHILLICOTHE, MO.

Heard in the Home Ec. Class--a thud. 'Twas only Miss Clark landing upon the floor after leaning over too far in her chair!

Miss Turnbull explained one day that the guillotine Jackie D. brought to class was made from his head and there was enough wood left over to make another guillotine.

Upon seeing her first basketball game, Nellie Rose Bridger remarked, "That player! Isn't she wonderful? I mean the one who does the cartwheels and is always yelling!" (It was Bobbie Dorman, the cheer leader.)

HOW ELSE WOULD YOU SAY IT?

Mysterious as chop suey.

A grin like an ear of corn.

The hay fever sneason.

She could utterly destroy conversation and leave you sitting there with the wreck of it in your hands and no place to put it.

He nudged her with a wink.

Travels of a French Fried Potato--in your mouth a few minutes; in your stomach a few hours; on your hips for the rest of your life.

Porky Knox walked into Miss Turnbull's room and asked her how many words he would have to write for a novel. "Sixty thousand words," suggested she. "Hooray," shouted the genius, "Then I'm finished--and I've enough left over to start another novel."

A real estate sign on the highway between Aledo and Viola: "If you lived here, you'd be home by now."

JUST SOMETHING FUNNY

Heard in the Home Ex. Class--a thing. Times only this Clark jumping upon the floor after jumping over too far in his chair.

Miss Turnbull explained one day that the children
Jackie D. brought to class was made from his head and there was enough to make another child.

Upon seeing her first basketball game, Willie Rose cried: "That player! That player! That's the wonderful man who does the basketball and is always winning!"
(It was Robbie Brown, the cheerleader.)

HOW WISE WOULD YOU SAY IT?

Hysterical as chop suey.
A grin like an ear of corn.
The day never happened.

She could utterly destroy conversation and leave you all-the time with the stick of it in your hands and no place to put it.
He nudged her with a wink.

Traveler of a French Fried Potato in your mouth a few minutes in your stomach a few hours on your lips for the rest of your life.

Lonky Knox walked into Miss Turnbull's room and asked if her boy would have to write for a novel.
"Sixty thousand words," suggested Mrs. "Lonky," showed the picture. "Then I'd finished--and I've never felt over to start another novel."

A road sign. Sign on the highway between Alice and
